

National Aeronautics and Space Administration

Community Outreach

NASA is providing regular project updates in a variety of easy-to-use ways.

IN YOUR NEIGHBORHOODS Pasadena Altadena La Cañada Flintridge

NASA is listening to what people have to say and is updating a comprehensive Community Involvement Plan.

NASA hosts Public Meetings and Community Information Sessions.

Pasadena resident and NASA Water Cleanup Outreach Manager Merrilee Fellows (left) with Northwest Pasadena City Councilmember Joyce Streater at the Pasadena Museum of History water exhibit, "Flowing Waters, Fruitful Valley."

At local libraries you'll find JPL water cleanup documents (including Spanish-language documents) on CD or in a user-friendly filing cabinet.

Information Repositories:

La Cañada
Flintridge Public
Library

Pasadena Central Library

Altadena Public
Library

JPL Library
(JPL employees only)

In the Mail

Nearly 17,000 area households are receiving NASA's bilingual newsletters and fact sheets. Call (818)393-0754 to begin receiving these and other timely mailings.

On the Web

At <http://JPLwater.nasa.gov> the latest reports, documents and transcripts are at your fingertips. Ask questions and send comments directly to NASA on our website.

By Phone

For more information at any time, contact:

Merrilee Fellows
Water Cleanup Outreach Manager
(818)393-0754

Steve Slaten
Remedial Project Manager
(818)393-6683

Para más información en español llame a:
Gabriel Romero
NASA JPL
(818)354-8709

By Email

watercleanup@nmo.jpl.nasa.gov